FAQs

How do I book in?

To book any appointments go to the contact me page on my website and fill out the form.

What is the maximum amount of people I can book in for an appointment?

You can book as many people as you like, however a large group may require an assistant artist which will have an added charge.

How early should I book?

As soon as possible to make sure you get your desired date. If you are unsure send an email to info@catpartridgemua.co.uk and any queries will be answered.

Do I need to book a trial?

A Trial appointment is always recommended so you and Cat can work together to build the perfect hair and makeup look for your special occasion.

Is a travel charge included in the over all price?

No, however a travel charge may be incurred if your location is out side of a reasonable distance.

Can I talk to Cat before my booking?

Absolutely! You can contact Cat at any time via e-mail, text or social media. Cat also offers a free phone call consultation prior to every booking so get in touch to secure a convenient time slot.

What happens in the trial and how do I prepare?

The trial session should take between and 1 - 2 hours depending on if it is for hair, makeup, or both. An open conversation is started with Cat to discuss your ideas, ask questions and gain professional advice from Cat to help decipher a selection of looks you would like to trial. Any advice will be given to you during the trial to help you prepare for your big day. If you feel you are in need of an additional trial this can be booked on the trial day for an additional charge.

How do I prepare for my booking?

Come with a clean, fresh, makeup free face and freshly washed and dried hair (unless instructed otherwise by Cat). You can discuss adding an extra skin care package to your booking if you require.
